PARLEYING FOR PEACE.

Arabi Pacha Proposes to Settle the Existing Difficulties and Retire.

Turkish Intervention Supposed to be the Cause--The Solution at Hand.

Forest Fires Spreading With Increased Fury in Michigan-Much Destruction.

The Hillsdales Again Shut Out --Business Failures for the Past Week.

The Value of American Assistance.

[By Cable to the Sentinel.]

ALEXANDRIA, July 28—Lord Beesford states that without the assistance of the American marines he would have been unable to discharge the numerous duties of suppressing fires and preventing looting, burying the dead and clearing the streets.

POSTPONED.

The bombardment of Aboukir has been postponed.

HEAVY FIRING.

12:45 p. m.

The sound of heavy firing is heard in the direction of Aboukir fort.

A SKIRMISH.

Arabi Pacha sent a train to the junction and an armed engine and tender were sent out to meet it. A few shots were exchanged.

SUEING FOR PEACE.

Arabi Pacha has proposed terms of peace, the conditions being, voluntary exile and retention to the rank and pay of colonel for himself and nine of his colleagues. The khedive has submitted the proposal to General Archibald Alison. It is believed this step has been taken at the instigation of the sultan.

THE NEGLECTED CROPS.

Persons competent to judge say that they believe half the cotton crop in Egypt will be lost, also the greater part of the wheat crop in lower Egypt, in consequence of neglect.

Rise in Stocks.

[By Cable to the Sentinel.]

LONDON, July 28.—Egyptian unified stocks have risen four per cent since last evening, and reports are circulated on the stock exchange that Arabi Pacha has declared that he will will not resist Turkish troops, if they operate without European auxiliaries and that Austria and Germany have also reverted to the plan of exclusive Turkish intervention.

THE PEACE REPORT CONFIRMED.

A dispatch from Alexandria says that Arabi Pacha offers to retire to a Mussulman monastery in Syria, among his colleagues, for whom he asks the same terms. They are Tauldа Pacha, Ali Fehey, Abdullah Pacha and Mahmond Samy. The same telegram stated that an armed engine, dispatched by the British, was sent to meet Racaf Pacha and two Ulemas to discuss this proposal. It is stated that the government has received confirmation of this news.

ENTHUSIASM IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.

In the house of commons this afternoon, Mr. Gladstone read, amidst cheers, an extract from the instructions forwarded to Lord Duf ferin, British ambassador at Constantinople, after the cabinet meeting yesterday, saying that England was glad of the co-operation of any power, but calling upon Turkey to dispatch troops, and before their dispatch to issue a proclamation upholding the khedive and denouncing Arabi Pasha as a rebel. Mr. Gladstone said that communications were still passing with Italy regarding her cooperation and added that a communication had just been received from Musuras Pacha, Turkish ambassador at London, announcing that the sultan would send troops immediately. The communication from Musuras Pacha contains no reference to the proclamation of Arabi Pacha as a rebel. The communication will not interfere with the proceedings of the conference.

NO DIRECT COMMUNICATION.

[illegible] under foreign secretary stated that a telegram had been received from Cartwright, consul general at Alexandria, which alludes to indirect communications by Arabi Pacha with a view to surrendering the military party, but there had been no direct communication from Arabi Pacha so far.

NOT CONFIRMED.

1:30 p. m.

The Standard, in an edition just issued, says that up to the time of going to press no information with regard to Arabi Pacha's offer has been received by the government.

PREPARATIONS WILL CONTINUE.

A dispatch from Alexandria states that there will be no cessation of military preparations, as it is thought the offer may be only to gain time.

TEN THOUSAND MORE.

The house of commons last evening agreed to the supplementary vote for 10,000 men for the army.

Forest Fires Sweeping Everything Before Them.

[By Telegraph to the Sentinel.]

EAST TAWAS, Mich., July 28.—Forest fires to northwest and south are burning fiercely. Fields of grain, farm houses, fences and orchards, together with tracts of cedar and pine, are burning. The hemlock roads east of here are impassable and no correct list of the losses can be given as accounts conflict. Brown's camp in Hope Creek, burned yesterday with lot of sleighs and lumbering equipage. Reports are received of horses, cattle and other stock burning, and of farmers deserting their homes. Fires above Oscada threatened that town to-day. Kinkerdale's place is reported entirely destroyed.

The Hillsdales Abroad and at Home.

[By Cable to the Sentinel.]

LONDON, July 28.—The Amateur Rowing association has decided that the crews of the Thames and London clubs shall not be allowed to row against the Hillsdales in the Barnes regatta Saturday.

PRESS COMMENT.

NEW YORK, July 28.—This week's Spirit of the Times says, editorially: "Those people who have been unable to decide whether the Henly highwaymen or the English amateur rowing association are altogether knaves or part knaves and part fools, will have no further doubt. This disreputable gang, who object to the amateur standing of the Hillsdale crew, accepted at Henly and rowed against by Aliens of Paris, whom the London Field proves itself to have rowed and won five races for momey since 1880."

Business Failures.

[By Telegraph to the Sentinel.]

NEW YORK, July 28.—The failures for the week, as reported here, are 111, a slight reduction from last week's report. Of these the eastern states furnished 18; western, 39; southern, 19; middle, 22; Pacific states and territories, 8; New York City, 5. The only failure of note in New York City is that of W. J. Wilcox & Co., with liabilities unsecured about $110,000. The probability is they will pay in full, half cash, the balance on time and organize a new concern.

Turkey Will not be Opposed.

[By Cable to the Sentinel.]

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 28.—The rumors that Arabi Pacha has declared he would resist the Turkish forces, are untrue. He has renewed his assurances of fidelity to the sultan. At a meeting of the conference yesterday Lord Dufferin, British ambassador, renewed his proposal for the issue of a proclamation declaring Arabi Pacha a rebel. Said Pacha, Turkish prime minister, thought such a proclamation should not be issued until the Turkish troops landed in Egypt.

"FUNNY" BUSINESS.

The New Enterprise of "Dr. A. B. Colwell" Would Seem to Demand the Investigation of the Grand Jury-A Pointer for the Prosecutor.

THE SENTINEL learned the other day that Dr. W. T. Ferguson had in his possession a circular sent out from this city and which was sufficiently interesting to publish and comment upon. A reporter was dispatched to Dr. Ferguson's residence this forenoon and found the genial physician quite willing to give up the item of news to the reporter. From his pocket-book Dr. Ferguson drew a small square card of white pasteboard upon which was the following:

HOME FOR LADIES

during pregnancy, with private family, with every convenience and care in modern residence. Board from $7 to $15 per week according to room and care and strictly confidential. A home found for the child if desired. Box 1,140, Fort Wayne, Ind. Reference will be given to physicians who have sent patients to my care.

A. B. COLWELL, M. D.

Dr. Ferguson explained that this card and a circular sent out by Colwell was handed to him by a gentleman, who shall be nameless. He received it from a party in Bloomington, Ind. A number of them were mailed to the students, male and female, of the Indiana University. Dr. Ferguson knew of no such person as Dr. Colwell, and a search through the city directory failed to reveal his name or residence. Colwell is not enenrolled among the list of medical practitioners of Allen county and a physicians seen by the member of reporter had never heard of him.

The business which is above advertised is carried on in large cities, and the supposition is that these establishments are abortion shops, as, indeed, they have been proven to be. No reputable physician was ever known to engage in this "strictly confidential" racket. The public would be interested to know more of this individual, Colwell, where he boards his patients and why he does not give an address other than a post office box.

A reporter invaded the postoffice this afternoon and under pretense of "seeing" Fred Drake waltzed around behind the boxes where he diligently studied box 1,140 but found no sign or name thereon. Of course postoffice officials are "mum" and the reporter knew it was to no use to tackle them about Dr. Colwell. The reporter's further investigations were put to an end by some important individual who exercises surveillance thereabouts, and the young man was summarily told to go on the outside.

We, however, commend Dr. Colwell and his "institution for ladies" to the investigation of the prosecutor and the grand jury. It may be all right and it may be a slaughter house for the innocents. At all events Dr. Colwell is a very suspicious individual.

Foster--Heit.

We have suspected our friend A. Foster, the tailor, for some time of matrimonial intentions. Last night he took unto himself a charming bride in the fair person of Miss Josephine Heit. The ceremony occurred about 9 o'clock, at No. 150 Griffith street, where is located Mr. Foster's new and elegantly furnished residence. The ceremony was performed in the presence of a few intimate friends by the Rev. Dr. Moffat. The Arion society arrived thereafter and serenaded Mr. and Mrs. Foster with the tuneful songs of Fatherland.

Mr. and Mrs. Foster take no wedding tour at present but can be found "at home" by their many friends. THE SENTINEL hopes that the wedded pair may enjoy years of felicity.

Nickel Plated Magnates.

Last evening Wm. B. Howard, Superintendent of Construction Morril, Chief Engineer Latcha, General Passenger Agent Monnette, Division Engineer Pardee and others arrived in this city on a special train from Chicago, via the New York, Chicago & St. Louis railroad. They were met west of the city by Hon. Wm. Fleming, and together the party made an examination of the work on the new round house, the walls of which will be completed to morrow night. They expressed satisfaction with the work, as they also did with the action of the council in regard to the depot and freight house. The party stopped at the McKinnie house last night, and [illegible] the new road. They are simply on a tour of inspection, to see in what condition the road bed now is and what progress is being made on the buildings in course of construction.

LOCAL LINES.

Hons. Hugh Dougherty and Peter Studebaker, of Bluffton, were in the city to-day.

Mr. Sheppard, of Indianapolis, brother-in-law to Charlie Beebe, is visiting him.

The interests of the press gang, in base ball games, are now looked after by Al. Foote, who never does things by halves.

R. Wes. McBride, the Waterloo attorney, well known here, was yesterday elected judge of the circuit court at Angola.

Work in the third degree to-night at Summit City Lodge, F. and A. M. Charles Gillett cavorts on the back of the goat.

The hearing of arguments for a new trial in the Studabaker-U. S. Express case were this morning postponed until the September term.

Indications for lower lake regions are: Partly cloudy weather, local rains, winds mostly westerly, stationary, or lower temperature, higher pressure.

S. Ray Williams, the popular editor of the Tipton Times, and Dr. A. B. Pitzer, democratic candidate for the nomination of auditor of state, are in the city to-day.

This morning at 7 o'clock, Anna Amelia, the infant daughter of W. J. W. and Franna Pomeroy, died of congestion of the brain. The funeral will take place Sunday afternoon at 1:20.

Angola Herald: "Louis Wolf, of Fort Wayne, spent Sunday in Angola with his wife and child, who have been here the past three weeks, visiting Mrs. Wolf's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Stiefel."

Mrs. Frank Lavanway called at this office to-day and said that the Mane family will not allow her to remove her furniture, etc., from their house where she rented an apartment. Mrs. Lavanway says that a warrant is out for her arrest.

This morning W. W. Rockhill received his Knight Templar uniform and sword. It is confiently expected that in point of soldierly bearing and artistic maneuvres Wright will carry off the honors at present held by Col. 'Ras Chittenden.

We learn that our warm friend, Editor Mitchell, is about hunting interviews with hotel stewards and others for the purpose of concocting a racy article with a reporter of this paper as the central figure. This is right, and we commend the old gentleman's enterprise. He can increase his issue next week far above the average of twenty-two copies. Anything about our young man is eagerly read by a craving public.

The Bluffton Times publishes the greater part of THE SENTINEL'S article on the nasty Miller-Gillett affair and in speaking of the female "Hattie" says that she is one Alice Burnes, notorious in Bluffton. She is the wife of Frank Burnes of that city who has applied for a divorce. The Times adds: "Alice has held high carnival with many of the 'too-too' young men of this place in her younger and more attractive days, and we presume could readily many a spicy tale untold."

THE republican campaign in Ohio will open August 5.

IN railway mileage Indiana stands seventh in importance, having, Jan. 1, 4,765. She is lead by Illinois, Pennsylvania, Ohio, New York, Iowa and Texas.

SINCE Alexander H. Stephen's nomination for governor of Georgia all opposition appears to have vanished, and it looks as if he would be elected without a contest.

SPEAKER KIEFER'S abilities are not appreciated. In his district in Ohio, Logan county, with thirty-two delegates, has declared in favor of General Kennedy, Kiefer's opponent. Evidently Kiefer must go.

THE Lagrange Standard is greatly worried because we don't view the Island park assembly management through shortsighted, moss covered glasses. Nothing has assured us as much of the justice of our course as the opposition of backwoods publications.

THE Rev. Gilbert De La Matyr, of Indianapolis, who renounced the ministry for politics, was recently refused the use of a Methodist pulpit at Denver, Col. The reverend gentleman is now on his ear and is pounding greenback doctrine with a vengeance.

SAYS the Cincinnati Commercial, republican: "Thurlow Weed gathers the wisdom of a life long experience and puts it into the single sentence that 'communities cannot be made temperate on compulsion;' but it will take the prohibitionists a long time to find that out."

THE independents of Pennsylvania yesterday rejected the harmony propositions of the stalwarts. War will now be waged in dead earnest and the dark side of republican politics in Pennsylvania be exposed to view. Nothing will do this work more effectually than a faction fight. In the meantime the democrats are gaining strength, as the people of the Keystone state are ready for reform.

SPEAKING of the judicial districts of Indiana and their representatives, the New Albany Ledger says it "is advised that Judge Worden will not accept a renomination, as the people at his home have requested him to act as the judge of the superior court of Allen county. This is to be regretted, for the opinions of Judge Worden are always able and exhaustive, and it will be hard to supply his place."

THE surprising fact has lately come to light that the list of pensioners of the United States has never been printed, and a motion for its publication has actually been opposed in the senate on the extraordinary ground that deserving soldiers should not be subjected to the "mortification" of having their names published as pensioners. It is hard to believe that anyone could think it a disgrace to receive a pension for honorable services. On the contrary, it should be esteemed an honor, and the only persons who would possibly be "mortified" at seeing their names on the pension list would be those who never have done anything to entitle them to such a reward.

RUMORS of another change in the cabinet are now floating around. This time Attorney General Brewster is to be removed, not, however, until after the Pennsylvania election.

IT is now proposed to investigate the management of the Jeannette expedition. Has anything been done under a republican administration that did not call for investigation?

REPUBLICAN papers are just now engaged in booming their favorites for the presidency. A variety of circumstances have ordained the nomination of James G. Blaine, but his election is a different question.

O. O. STEALEY, who is a member of the democratic state central committee, is at present enjoying cheap notoriety owing to the nature of his correspondence to the Louisville Courier-Journal. Mr. Stealey insists that he be allowed his own opinions, unchecked, but selfishly denies others such priveleges. He has been brought into prominence by his elevation in the party and should be promptly shorn of his honors. His present attitude smacks of the ridiculous.

THE election of Archbishop Feehan to the college of cardinals will add the second potentate of the Roman church to America, the first one being Cardinal McCloskey. The growth of the Catholic church has necessitated the jurisdiction of an additional cardinal. Cardinal Feehan's home will be in Chicago, and surely no more desirable place could be selected. Archbishop Feehan was born in the County Tipperary, Ireland, 1829. He was educated for the priesthood, early in life showed an earnest desire to be taught in the church work. He was sent from the Dunboyne college, in Ireland, to St. Louis, where he was ordained priest in 1852, and appointed to the chair of dogmatic theology in the Carondelet seminary. After six years' service here he was located at the church of the Immaculate Conception, St. Louis, seven years, and then made bishop of the diocese of Nashville, November 18, 1865. That post he occupied for fifteen years, until called to the arch-episcopacy of the Chicago see, of which he was the first head. He will not surrender that position, the election as cardinal being merely an additional honor. Archbishop Feehan is a man of unusually fine and commanding presence and of courtly demeanor. Physically, his appearance is much above the average of men, as he is over six feet in height and proportionately well built. His head is large, with a broad, noble brow, prominently marked features, with a clearly cut, sensitive mouth. The whole face is fine in outline and full of character, mobile, and exceedingly expressive; the eyes blue and very kindly in expression, and he possesses a smile of rare benignity. In a word, the archbishop's appearance at once impresses the beholder with a sense of highly cultivated power, tempered with exqisite gentleness, and he looks every inch a prince of the church, whose sway would be dictated by love rather than authority. Scarcely could any incumbent of so high and responsible an office look more thoroughly the exponent of the principle, suaviter in modo, fortiter in re, than the new cardinal to be.

The Right Sort of a Man.

You will find, as a rule, that the men who are favorites with men are the best and truest in their relations to women. Yes, the men who like sometimes to turn their backs on all women, and go off "with the other fellows," and have a good boyish time on the water, or the mountain, or in some other man's den.

Women need never be afraid to trust their happiness to those whom other good men esteem good fellows; but if a man is avoided by men, however much women admire him, shun him. It is he who has flirtations that come to nothing, and has "not been very nice" to the girls who have broken their engagements with him, who, when he marries, wrings his wifes heart if she has one, and spoils her temper if she is naturally an angel.

Manly men are the best lovers, the best husbands, she best companions for women, just as womanly women are the best sweet-hearts and wives.

What do we think of women who shun their own sex, however charming men may find them? It is seldom, if ever, that your men's favorite ill-uses his wife. Perhaps it may be explained in this way—friendship of a sublimated sort is what love becomes after a year or so of marriage, and he who is friendly to the very depths of his soul, enters into this state happily, and is ready for all the delights that follow, but a man who is capable of nothing but a fleeting affection which ever pursues a new object, and cares for no woman when she is won, hates the domestic ties and becomes detestable in consequence.

It is the man who would die for his friend, and for whom his friend would die, who makes a miraculously happy wife of the woman to whom he scarcely knew how to make love when he courted her.—British Quarterly.

"Their Occupation Gone."

R. V. Pierce, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y.: I was attacked with congestion of the lungs, soreness over the liver, severe pain in the joints, a burning fever, and general giving away of the whole system. Failing to to find relief in remedies prescribed, I tried your "Golden Medical Discovery." It effected my entire cure. Your medicines have only to be used to be appreciated. If every family would give them a trial, nine-tenths of the doctors would, like Othello, find their occupation gone. Yours truly,

The importance of using good pure soap for the toilet, nursery, and bath-room cannot be overrated, inasmuch as the skin is particularly sensitive to the action of deleterious ingredients. Particularly is this the case with infants; let your child be washed with the best soap you can procure; you will be amply repaid by seeing the skin healthy and clear. Procure from your druggist Pond's Extract Toilet soap. Use it once, you will use it always.

"Troubles often comes from whence we least expect them." Yet we may often prevent or counteract them by prompt and intelligent action. Thousands of persons are constantly troubled with a combination of diseases. Diseased kidneys and costive bowels are their tormentors. They should know that Kidney-Wort acts on these organs at the same time causing them to throw off the poisons that have clogged them, and so renewing the whole system.

The peculiar action on the kidneys and urinary organs of asparagus is frequently noticed during the season. Prof Benson recently proved in the case of the Emperor William and others that in combination with malt and quinine it is an absolute specific for diseases of the liver, kidneys and urinary organs. His method has been adopted by the Malt Bitters Company and this great German food is now compounded of malt, hops, quinine ...

We were yesterday shown by Superintendent John Wilkinson several stalks of oats taken from a field on the poor farm averaging over two hundred grains to the stalk. This may be considered an excessively large growth when the average number of grains to a stalk is but sixty.

In alluding yesterday to the Mane incest case we spoke of the Columbia City house as having once had a tough reputation. This was intended as no reflection on Mr. Jeff Mane, present proprietor, who has made many changes, doing away with the old name. We learn that under his management the house enjoys a good reputation and is liberally patronized by the better class of the traveling public.

While showing at Greenville, a countryman sold Forepaugh two bushels of potatoes at seventy-five cents per bushel, which he agreed to deliver at their cook tent, but instead he sold them over again to a grocer, whereupon Adam swore out a warrant and had him arrested for obtaining money under false pretenses, and it cost the young man $30 for his trick; besides Forepaugh exposed him by name in the evening before an audience of 5,000 people.

The Ligonier Banner says: "Still another case of amusing cheek presented itself to us Tuesday. Frank Little, M. D, of Fort Wayne, sends us a local notice worth, at least calculation, four dollars, for which he offers us $2 provided, however, that he sells a certain number of bottles of his 'Celebrated (?) A woman called on Trustee Gaffney this morning and informed him coolly that she wanted a pass to Toledo, in order that she might pass a few weeks of the heated term as the guest of her daughter. Mr. Gaffney informed her that the township was not encouraging pleasure tours, as they were demoralizing to society. On hearing this the woman broke into a terrible rage and accused the good natured trustee of venality. She wants a change in the trustee's office.

A Destitute Family.

Mary Smith and three little children arrived in the city from Chicago this morning, en route to Wabash, where Mrs. Smith's relatives reside. The family has traveled at the expense of counties along the line of the Pittsburg road. This morning she called on Trustee Gaffney to help herself and children on their journey, and Mr. Gaffney furnished them with a pass to Huntington. The woman bears the marks of ill-health and hard labor, while her children present a most distressing appearance, being ill fed and poorly clad. Mrs. Smith said she was married five years ago to a pork packer at Chicago, who soon after the wedding turned out to be a drunken sot. He continued his dissipation until last week, when he was found dead in front of a grog shop. A day or two ago, herself and children were turned out of the house they had so long occupied, by the landlord, being unable to pay the rent. The mother and children could be seen at the south depot this morning, a pitiful spectacle.

A Queer Call.

Adams county has a director, who, as far as originality and primitive orthography is concerned, carries off the biscuit. Following is the verbatim copy of a call issued by him:

A PROFESSIONAL NINE

Come from Chicago to Do Up the Golden Eagles, Which They Accomplish by a Score of 23 to 4--The Home Club Knocked Off Their Pins.

For a couple of weeks the principal topic of discussion in sporting circles was the game of ball between the Fort Wayne club and the Chicago amateur nine known sometimes as Spaulding's nine. Flushed with victory so far this season, the club was wild enough to suppose it an easy matter to vanquish even a nine from Chicago. Some of our townsmen were foolish enough to be inspired with the notion of our hot headed young men and bet their good money on the game yesterday that the Golden Eagles would win. Now they are about damning the poor home nine, which, quite crestfallen, is trying to-day not to be knocked quite so silly by the superior playing of the picked nine from Chicago.

A very large crowd assembled yesterday at Swinney Park to witness the match. A new grand stand was erected facing the diamond which was crowded though here the rays of the sun were fiercest. The old stand was also crowded and carriages and pedestrians were located in advantageous positions.

The Chicago players comprised three of the Spalding amateur nine, and the rest were made up of the famous Lake View club, and three disengaged league players, notably O'Day, late of the Providence club, Remsen, formerly of the Hartford's and Emerson. At ten minutes of four, the game was called, the Chicago nine going to bat. Owing to the "indisposition" of the Chicago umpire, Mr. Al Foote was chosen to that position. It was evident from the first that the home nine were at a decidedly poor advantage. Murmurs, not loud, but long, arose from the crowd that the Fort Wayne boys might battle with the suburban yokels and knock 'em cold, but they had undertaken an unequal task when they tackled the Chicago picked nine (not Spaulding's). Not until the fifth inning did the Golden Eagles score a run when Jones tallied one on a past ball by the catcher, and Meyers tallied one on a block ball, the pitcher being out of position. Even this small encouragement was hailed with a great deal of enthusiasm and bets were freely made on our boys scoring more runs. The ninth inning saw Hutchinson and Webb bob up with two runs, but it was generally conceded that the Chicago boys gave us this small consolation out of sheer pity.

Of course the complaints against the Chicago gang are just. Our boys didn't know who were opposed to them and consequently lost their heads and as it were quite went off their feet. Such a paralyzed lot of ball players we havn't seen for a long while. The Chicago boys confident in their superiority grinned incessantly and played with our perspiring and broken up nine with a fiendish coolness which fairly forced admiration from the disappointed crowd.

The score was:

NOTES.

The home run was made by Kuehne, second baseman of the Cnicagos.

Billy Meyers had a queer racket of catching balls on the bounce. He seemed afraid to face 'em.

O'Day, the pitcher of the Chicago nine, is a good one. He ought to be, for the Providence club gave him $3,000 for two seasons' work.

Brown, of our boys, played the strongest game. His little racket when pitching of running up on the man at the bat was very pretty and won him great plaudits.

Barrett, our short stop, distinguished himself for his wild throwing.

Bloomhuff was the recipient of many objurgations. He can hardly play ball.

The absence of Morris and Faulkner very materially weakened our nine.

Brown and the Jones brothers alternated as pitcher and catcher for our nine.

F. Jones made a bad error in running to first base to catch a fly.

Con Schenck was on hand with liquid refreshments and cigars, and was liberally patronized.

Capt. Bradley, yesterday afternoon wanted to bet $100 on the Fort Wayne boys for the day's game.

Somebody had gall enough to take possession of the judge's stand, lock the door leading to the stand, and exclude persons more entitled to occupy this eligible point of view.

We found but a few fellows who would bet on the Fort Wayne boys to-day.

THE DOCTOR ACQUITTED.

Dr. John Mane Discharged at the Preliminary Examination--He Slept With His Daughter Because She was Sick and Needed His Medical Attendance.

This morning at 10 o'clock, occurred the preliminary examination of Dr. John Mane, whose arrest yesterday on the charge of criminal intimacy with his own daughter, Amanda, was mentioned. The examination was postponed on account of the principal witness, Mrs. Frank Lavanway, having secreted herself. She was however found this morning and explained that she got out of the way because she feared that she might be arrested and committed to jail, she being unable to furnish bonds. Put on the stand, Mrs. Lavanway testified that on the night of the 25th, she invited Miss Amanda to share her couch but that she declined, saying she preferred to sleep with her father. Wednesday morning, Mrs Lavanway entered the apartment of the lady to awaken her in time for the excursion to Rome City, and found the doctor and his daughter ensconced together in the same bed under the clothing.

Dr. Mane and his daughter testified that they were thus together because Miss Mane was ill and wished the near presence of her father in case of emergency. The old gentleman is hard of hearing and perhaps could not have heard the call of his daughter if she wished him in the night.

Col. Robertson in his argument thought proper to say that a reporter of this paper and the deputy prosecutor, representing themselves as Messrs. Hunter and Hicks, near midnight of Wednesday called at the house of the doctor 18, Harrison street, to have an interview with Mrs. Lavanway, which would have been an eminently proper business matter if it had occurred. However, the reporter was at Rome City the night of the alleged interview, and didn't reach the city until one o'clock yesterday morning. Mr. Rodabaugh at the time was engaged in conversation with Lieut. Wilkinson at the police station.

Justice Ryan saw fit to acquit the doctor, who, exonerated of the terrible charge, left the court room congratulated by his friends. Dr. Mane said to a reporter of this paper that he had treated him fairly but that he proposed to bring a libel suit against the News for statements regarding his character. The doctor's son, Mr. Jeff Mane, went to interview the editor of the News for certain statements made regarding his father.

As Deputy Prosecutor Rodabaugh left the court room he was menaced by the son of Dr. Mane and a revolver was offered the official who left surrounded by a body guard in the persons of Sam Hench, Henry Colerick and S. L. Morris.

The Republican Convention.

To-morrow the republicans meet in convention. Undoubtedly they will nominate a full ticket, and don't propose to be bull-dozed by a lot of soreheads into endorsing an "independent" ticket. Every man nominated in the convention to-morrow, we understand, will be a republican. If this is any consolation to the soreheads let them have it. A strong fight for the nomination as criminal judge will be made by Messrs. Withers, Hanna, and Irvin Stratton. We have before mentioned the aspirants for other nominations.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate for Alcoholism.

Dr. F. P. Gilmartin, Detroit, Michigan, says: "I have found it very ef-

out to
from the ci
of a new mow patented. This was built, and of course was to be perfect, being put up pair sheps of Mr. D. Shordon, on E
Columbia street.

Its workings, however, were perfect and entitles it to the highest praise, and all who saw it unite in the belief that it will speedily supercede every mower, of whatever make, now in the market. It is difficult to describe the construction of the machine on paper, so as to be readily understood, although to look at it is perfectly simple. It is a movement entirely new in mechanism, a rotating crank moving in right lines. The gearing is much the same as in all other mowers.

The machine is put together without the use of any bolts or screws, being perfectly simple, and at the same time strong and durable. The advantages claimed for it are that it entirely disposes with the pitman and pitman connections, and allows the knife to be driven backwards and forwards without any strain whatever on the knife heel; it also allows the finger bar to be lifted in a perpendicular position to pass an obstruction without stopping to throw it out of gear, and can be easily so lifted by the driver without leaving his seat. Another peculiar advantage is that the knife always registers, no matter how uneven the ground, or in what position the knife is in—a point never before attained on any other mower, and the very thing manufacturers have been working for for many years. In fact, it is the first stride made toward a radical change and advantage in mowing machines for the past quarter of a century, and can be made at a cost at least fifteen per cent. less than any other machine ever invented. In the field yesterday it did itr work perfectly, even considering the fact that it had been hastily constructed for experimental purposes, every one who saw it pronouncing it a model for simplicity and perfect and effective work. The patent was applied for during the latter part of March last, and was granted the 16th of May following, for a short time intervening showing that it must have possessed unusual merit.

It is proposed by the inventor, Mr. Gause, and the parties interested in the patent to organize a stock company and erect works here for the manufacture of the machines on a large scale. This would be a substantial benefit to the city and should receive the attention of business men and capitalists. There is no doubt of the success of the enterprise if sufficient assistance is extended to begin and carry on the work.

The Law of Kindness.

It would be a blessing and a kindness to poor, weak, nervous, debilitated suffering humanity, if druggists would stop selling the many vile purgative pills and cathartic compounds advertised for the cure of liver complaints. Although they afford temporary relief they weaken the digestive organs and compel a continued and increasing use of the same. Sufferers from dyspepsia and liver complaint do not need a cathartic but should use some true medicinal tonic that will strengthen the digestive organs and heal the diseased tisues of the stomach, liver and bowels. A prepartion of Yellow Dock, Sarsaparilla, Iron, Celery, Buchu and Calisaya has proven very efficacious as a permanent strengthener of the digestive organs. These ingredients all enter into the composition of Dr. Guysott's Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla, a remedy highly recomended as a general health renewer.

Mr. Charle B. Chambers, of Xeina, O., writes: "I had many ailments. All the organs of my body were in a weakened state—lungs, liver, kidneys, heart nerves, etc. I doctored for this and then for that. I tried bitters, they failed. Dr. Guysott's Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla helped me from the start. I am now as strong and healthy as when I was a boy.

[illegible] ds [illegible] the [illegible] e of that [illegible] lated in the [illegible] er a circumstance [illegible] s connection. It was [illegible] of the cause of one of [illegible] eads. Said the relator:

"Some twenty years ago, in one of the back counties, there resided a farmer who had a very beautiful and sprightly daughter. He also owned a big dog. Several miles from the farmer's house there lived a strapping young fellow, who was sweet on the girl mentioned. In fact, they were engaged to be married, and the time was set for the wedding. The dog and the young spark didn't agree very well. The animal didd't cotton to his nibs, and always tried to chaw his legs off whenever he came a courting. So it was natural that the young fellow should detest the canine on general principles. On the morning of the day that the marriage was to have been celebrated the beau mounted his gallant steed and hied him away over mountain and through dale to pay just one more visit to his dulcinea before the last fatal act—or rather before the wedding. Riding up to the fence, our hero tied his horse, and started toward the house. As he neared the front door he spied that —— yaller dog lying on the steps asleep. He also could see the family sitting at dinner, for it was then the hour of noon and the door was wide open, with the table in the middle of the room. Another door, on the opposite side of the room and house, was open, too. Seeing a chance to get even with his old enemy, the dog, Mr. Lover concluded that he would just give the brute a 'camp' with his booted foot, that he might be prepared for what was to come when the youth got into the family. So he whaled away at the sleeping mastiff and fetched him a terrific thump in the short ribs, putting a holy crimp in him that for the moment knocked the life out of him. You know it is hard to tell what a dog will do if you baste him like that in his slumbers. Well, this one simply sprang up, let out one unearthly howl, and dove into the house, flew stright for the table, poked his head into a hole in the table-cloth that hung nearly to the floor, and away he went out the back door, carrying the table-cloth with him, scattering the dishes, knives, fords, food and whisky all over the place. Sister Maria, what a commotion there was! The festive sport saw the old man jump up and start for his trusty rifle. He knew that meant shoot, and without stopping to say good morning, excuse me, or go to the devil, our friend broke for his horse. Drawing his knife as he ran, he cut the hitching-strap, sprang into the saddle, and put spurs to his nag as though old Nick was after him. In fact, the old boy might as well have been in the chase, for the girl's daddy with a big gun was in pursuit, blazing away with all his might, but the precious young fool didn't get shot on account of the start he secured. The horseman never pulled rein until he reached the house of a friend, several miles away, where he stopped and told what he had done. The friend informed him that the dog with the table-cloth was under the front porch and wouldn't come out, and he wondered where it had got its queer robe. The wedding never came off, the girl married another fellow and the feud began."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

An Ohio Romance.

Two or three years ago a Mr. Farney took charge of the high school in Buena Vista, O. One of his pupils was Miss Woolftan, and almost instantly teacher and pupil fell in love and became engaged. Old Mr. Woolftan refused to consent to their union. Farney resigned the school, but before he left town he called, with the Woolftan consent, for the last interview with the beautiful brunette. At his request she sang the sadful song of Burns, "Had we never loved sae kindly, hea we never loved sae blindly," they wouldn't have come to grief. Then Mr. Farney went away in the darkness and tears, and three days afterward his body was found in the Ohio river six miles above Cincinnati, and buried. The girl was inconsolable of course, but last June married a gentleman who consented to take her with the perfect understanding that she did not, could not, would not and should not love him. Living With a Bullet in His Brain, and Apparently Benefited by It.

George Foulty, of Bellefontaine, Ohio, a young man who shot a bullet into his brain Sunday, July 9, has so far recovered that he is considered out of danger. The case is one of the most peculiar on record, not only because but few recorded instances have been given us of even partial recovery, but from the strange absence of ordinary symptoms in cases of this kind. Foulty had cause to shoot himself. He had been married but two months, and had trouble with his wife and his mother-in-law, and was drunk when he committed the deed. He lay on his back, shot himself in the exact centre of his forehead, and expected to die instantly. Instead of that he did not lose consciousness for a moment, but says he felt the ball strike his forehead, pass clear through his brain and strike the bone at the back of his head. As soon as he shot himself he got up from the bed, walked into another room and sat there until the neighbors assembled and induced him to lie down. Notwithstanding the fact that brains have oozed from the bullet hole and attending physicians have probed the wound for a distance of three inches, he has never felt much inconvenience, and has never been unconscious for a single instant. It is said that his faculties are better and his reasoning powers clearer now than before he tried to shuffle off. On being questioned as to his sensations, he says that he feels all right, and has never had any ill-feeling excepting a "slight headache." He is so far recovered that he walks around the house, smokes cigars and makes himself generally comfortable.

What Wives Do.

This is the way Fannie Field in the Prairie Farmer answers the question, "Are wives supported?"

"Who has cooked your meals, made, mashed and mended your clothes all these years? Who made the butter and cheese that you sold and pocketed the money for? Who took care of your children, nursed you when you were sick, and bore with your outrageous fault finding when things did not go to suit you? Who patched, darned, and contrived, and saved and made every dollar do the work of three? And what has she had to pay her for all this? Just her board and clothes as she went along, and if you were to die to-morrow all that she could claim of the property that she worked so hard to help you save, would be the use of one-third of the real estate; and in nine cases out of the that is literally worse than nothing. If it had not been for your wife's help, would yon have been worth so much to-day as you are now? If you had been obliged to hire a woman to do the work that your wife has done for her board and clothes, do you imagine that you could have done much more than make both ends meet.

The Aurist's Watch.

Aurist to patient—"We'll see directly what your difficulty of hearing arises from. Can you hear this tick?" holding out his watch.

Lady—"No."

Aurist, holding it nearer—"Now, possibly?"

Lady—"No."

Aurist, placing the watch closer to the patient's ear—"Well, now, at all events?"

Lady—"Not a sound."

Aurist—"Why, you must be all but stone deaf? You surely can't understand what I'm saying to you?"

Lady—"Indeed I can, I assure you."

Aurist—"But, upon my word—" He looks at the watch, then puts it to his ear. "Oh, I beg ten thousand pardons. The watch has not been wound up."
